J U T E

Jute is a relatively rough fiber, it's roughness and durability make it ideal for commercial furniture. Jute has an overall positive impact on the environment. In fact, it is one of the few natural fibers that actually provides environmental benefits instead of being detrimental.

Our Craftsmen have in depth knowledge of Jute as a material, and skillfully weave beautiful patterns to the wooden furniture, giving it a classic rustic and warm aesthetic value.

BUNAI

Jute or the golden fibre is a very affordable natural fibre and plant extract.

It is a long, soft and shiny fibre which is spun into strong threads used for weaving or Bunai. With an intricately woven jute base, this chair is a complete package of strength, elegance and comfort.

Elevate your space by adding an xfactor with this not-your-regular chair. Comfortingly familiar yet refreshingly new, feel instantly relaxed the minute you approach this couture piece! Bunai is the dining chair to go to if you value your meal time, as much as we all do!

NAUKA

The Nauka is the lifeline of the fishermen. The nauka takes the fishermen to the sea, where they throw the net to catch fish which is their livelihood. Cradled in this boat shaped chair, throw your net of ideas and catch interesting feedbacks!

Keep the look of the room light yet warm with the rich and striking contrast of this chair. Soft in its colour palette with wooden legs, it is simple, elegant and optimized. With this chair in your office, be prepared to fall in love with your space all over again.

WOOD CARVING

Wood Carving is an art that has been practiced all over the world but very avidly in India where great pieces of woodwork have been crafted throughout the ages. India itself has a rich wood carving history and contributes prolifically to the array of carved handicrafts produced in wood. Being a climactically diverse nation, India is blessed with a variety of soft and hard woods each being used to produce a different family of wooden crafts. Moreover, the cultural, lingual and religious diversity is reflected in the different handicrafts that emerge from different regions.

J H A R O K H A

Moghul architecture sported lattice design windows or jharokhas. This design allowed light and air to pass through and also gave the required privacy to the room. The Moghul era comes alive with this chair with its lattice work design giving it the appearance of a jharokha. This design allows light and air flow making it a comfort seating.

Seamlessly blend drama with poise! This jaali-backrest chair is made of oak wood and fabric which will give your decor a regal look. Place it in your patio or incorporate it with the decor elements in your space for a strikingly good looking room.
